HOME.

Where is our home? The scene, it matters not; If proud or humble, poor or vainly great! A pillar'd mansion, palace, or a cot, A life of labor, or a life of state— It is the same; for many hopes elate, Cling to the soul, 'neath rafters or a dome; For heaven hath dealt to all an equal fate Of joys and sorrows; not the rich alone Hath God uplifted high. The poor man has a home.

I will not sing the castle's battled walls, The crimson chamber or the golden roof, The sculptured baubles in that lofty hall; From such, and all, my heart will stand aloof— But happy where a busy hand, the proof Of virtue, health, and diligent supplies, The table, chair, spread with a homely yoke Of humble pattern, not of Tyrian dyes, Yet not unworthy all, at least to parent's eyes.

My home and hearth; what magic in the name! Home is Love's altar; where all joyous things, The laugh, the hope, the bliss, religion's flame, Are daily offered, and the incense flings, Sweet savor of affections, such as brings Its genial influence o'er the troubled mind, And soothes the heart which care no longer strings; Soft, beautiful, endearing, there resigned, The old solace seek, the young will pleasure find.

PENCIL SKETCHES OF TRAVEL.

Letter IV.

76 Stone House, Tappan, Rockland Co., New York, Aug. 8th, 1846.

MY DEAR JACKSON:—Tappan is a small village, a few miles from the Hudson, and is very pleasantly located. It is justly celebrated in the history of the American Revolution, as being the place where the Army, under Gen. Washington, was encamped, at the time Benedict Arnold turned a traitor to his country, and the brave Major Andre fell a victim to the regulations of war, by attempting to discover the secrets of the Army with which his Government was contending. Major Andre received a Pass from Arnold, and being put in possession of documents and information to enable him to pass the guards, came down the bank of the River, and crossed to the Rockland Lake Landing, which is now owned by James L. Cheeseman, Esq., of New York, and proceeded up the side of the Mountain, and along the country, until he arrived at a spot between Dobbs' Ferry and Tarrytown, where he was accosted by three individuals who were playing cards.

It was dark, being night, and they, hearing the tramp of his horse, hailed him, and enquired where he was from. He supposed they were British soldiers, and answered, "from below,"—by this he meant that he was from New York, which was then occupied by the British. He said further, that he was on urgent business, and must proceed immediately on. They, however, stopped him, and soon discovered that he was a British officer. Ascertaining that he was a prisoner in the hands of Americans, he offered them a gold watch and a purse of gold, if they would release him, and permit him to return. But it was all to no purpose,—they then examined him, and found in his boots the papers, &c., the history of which has handed the name of Arnold down to posterity, enshrouded with infamy. Andre then offered these men, Williams, Vanwart, and Fanning, an immense sum of money if they would release him, but they absolutely refused. They conducted him to Gen. Washington's Camp, at this place, and he was confined, in the very house where I am now writing. The building is of brown stone, a story and a half high, and is built in a very neat and substantial manner. It stands some five or six feet from the ground, and has a piazza in front. Andre was in custody about forty-eight hours, I think, and his trial took place in the old Dutch Church, which then stood about ten rods from this house. It was taken down in 1836, and a new one erected on the same site. The information, concerning his execution, was obtained from an old resident of Tappan, who was an eye-witness of the transaction. The place is at the summit of a hill, about a quarter of a mile West of the village, and overlooking, to the East, a romantic and fertile valley. A small heap of stones, thrown hastily together, with a very large stone, on the top, an upright stake with names cut upon it, and two small trees about six feet apart, are the only monuments that mark the spot of his execution and grave. Washington's Head Quarters were in an antiquated stone dwelling, now occupied by Mr. Arthur Johnson, and which is but a few rods from where I now am. It has a venerable and almost hallowed appearance, and seems to tell of other days, and other scenes.

Major Andre was executed on Sunday, at 2 o'clock, P. M., October 2d, 1780. A man by the name of Armstrong, being one of the oldest and best workman at his trade, in the regiment, was selected to make the coffin, which was painted black, agreeable to the custom in those times. The door of the prison-house was closely guarded by six sentinels; a strong guard of three hundred men also paraded around the building. A kind of procession was formed by placing the guard in single file on each side of the road; in front were a large number of American officers of high rank, on horseback,—these were followed by the wagon containing Andre's coffin—then a large number of officers on foot, with Andre in their midst. The procession moved slowly up a moderately rising hill to the West, which I have before described. On the top was a field without any enclosure; in this was a very high gallows, made by setting up two poles on crotches, laying a third on top. The wagon containing the coffin was drawn directly under the gallows. In a short time Andre stepped into the back part of the wagon—then on his coffin—took off his hat and laid it down—then placed his hands on his hips, and walked very uprightly back and forth, as far as the length of his coffin would permit, at the same time casting his eyes upon the pole over his head, and the whole scenery by which he was surrounded. He was dressed in a complete British uniform.—His coat was of the brightest scarlet, faced and trimmed with the most beautiful green; his vest and pants were bright buff. He had a long and beautiful head of hair, which, agreeable to the fashion, was wound with a black ribbon or leather, and hung down his back. All eyes were upon him, and the crowd was immense; his face was very pale, but he was perfectly calm and composed, and manifested great firmness.

Not many minutes before he took his stand upon the coffin, the executioner stepped into the wagon, with a halter in his hand, and attempted to put it around Andre's neck, but by a sudden movement of his arm, he prevented this. He then unfastened his shirt collar, and adjusted the halter himself, bringing the knot directly over the jugular vein, so as to strangle quickly. He then handed the executioner a handkerchief to secure his arms behind, and tied another over his eyes. All being ready, the wagon was suddenly drawn from under him, and after two or three convulsive struggles, he was perfectly still. After remaining in this position about thirty minutes, he was carefully taken down, his uniform given to his servants, who were present, and his body placed in the coffin. His neck was broken, and his face very much discolored. He was buried on the same spot where his execution took place, and which I visited last evening. He was a most brave and intrepid officer, and consequently a great loss to the British. He said that he could meet his fate like a man, but he beseeched Washington, most earnestly, to have him shot. He could not brook the idea of being hung; but the Father of his Country was compelled to deny this request. Andre was taken as a spy, and by the rules of war, it was necessary he should be hung. There was probably no act of Washington's life, or rather no duty which he performed so reluctantly, as the part which he was compelled to take in the trial and execution of this accomplished young man; but he never shrank from his duty, however unpleasant it was. How many are there at the present day, think you, would refuse the bribe offered by Andre to William, Vanvort and Paulding? They were a fair specimen of the men in those days. Yours always,

PLONIO.

EXTRAORDINARY PUNISHMENT.—The American Flag, published at Matamoros, gives the following extraordinary account of a Mexican punishment for theft, in that town:

The culprit with his hands tied behind him, and a chain with a heavy iron ball attached to it, fastened round his leg, was paraded through the streets, and after a sufficient exhibition, was led to the ferry boat, and when it had attained the middle of the stream, with his hands thus tied and the heavy weight suspended to his leg, he was made to plunge into the rushing torrent. The poor devil managed, even in this situation, to keep his head above water for several moments, and shortened the distance considerably between himself and the shore, but the ball at length touching the muddy bottom, he could swim no further, and was dragged under and passed into eternity.

IMPORTANT QUESTION.—The Boston Bee says the following very important question is to be debated before the Pankapog Debating Society, at their next meeting:

"Can the breed of polywogs be so improved to render them fit for the table, and a profitable article of exportation?"

The cat question has not been decided yet.

INDIAN ELOQUENCE.—The following specimen of eloquence was delivered by an Indian woman over the contiguous graves of her husband and infant:—"The Father of Life has taken from me the apple of my eye, and the core of my heart, and hid them in these two graves. I will moisten the one with my tears, and the other with the milk of my breast till I meet them again in that country where the sun never sets."

The deposits of gold within the year amounted to $2,578,493, and those of silver to $815,415.

At the New Orleans branch mint, the coinage amounted to $1,750,000, comprising $680,000 in gold, and $1,750,000 in silver coins, and composed of 2,412,500 pieces. The deposits for coinage amounted to $846,980, in gold, and $1,059,071 in silver.

The branch mint at Dahlonega received during the year deposits of gold to the value of $498,632, and its coinage amounted to $501,795, composed of 90,629 half eagles and 19,460 quarter eagles.

The whole coinage for the year, at the three mints in operation, amounted to $5,668,595, comprising $3,756,447 in gold, $1,873,200 in silver, and $38,948 in copper coin.

The Programme of the Concert of Mr. Perabean at the Ocean House this evening, offers a rich treat to our citizens, and the visitors here. Mr. P., as is well known, is one of the most celebrated Piano players that ever visited this country; and the instrument on which he plays was manufactured to his order by Erard, of Paris.

This is the evening for Mr. Eddy's Dance, at Masonic Hall. An extra supply of music is to be in attendance.

GEN. TAYLOR AND THE PRESIDENCY.—A correspondent among the volunteers, writes as follows to the Mobile Herald:

"I was somewhat curious to know what effect the sudden popularity of Gen. Taylor would have upon him. When the old soldier heard of his nomination to the Presidency by various meetings in the Union, he showed as much surprise as any of us. He went farther, and expressed a decided opinion against the election to that office of military chieftains—making an exception, however, or excuse, in favor of Gen. Jackson, whose intimate friend he was, and for whom he had the strongest attachment. His words, as given to me, ran somewhat in this shape: 'I have been always opposed to the election of mere soldiers to the Presidency. They have no business in a civil office of so great responsibility, and they are usually unfitted by education and experience for it. It is not probable that I can be tempted to violate this principle of my life to gratify my own ambition, or those who have controlled these meetings.'"

Appointments by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. George T. Nichols, to be surveyor and inspector of the revenue for the port of North Kingston, in the State of Rhode Island, in the place of William Holloway, removed.

NOT BAD.—The New Orleans Times states that a few days since a resident of that city called upon an apothecary for four ounces of laudanum. The gentleman behind the counter thinking that there was something out of the way in the appearance of the applicant, gave him, instead of the laudanum, a decoction of rhubarb. After a short space of time, the druggist was asked for a stomach-pump by a party, who stated that a man who had just bought laudanum from him had taken it, and said that he was dying. The apothecary, to the astonishment of the applicants, steadfastly refused either to lend the pump, or go with it to the dying man's relief; but explained the whole matter to their perfect satisfaction.

Last evening Armory Hall was filled with spectators, to witness the wonderful performance of Herr Alexander; and although the Hall was so crowded, yet they did not seem to mind that, for the seats were so mysterious, and at the same time so amusing, that every one's attention was riveted to them.

The New York Commercial Advertiser tells the following story about the arrest of one of the "City Fathers." The captain of the 5th district police encountered very early in the morning, a damsel whose style of dress indicated extreme youthfulness, and seeing her knock at the door of a disreputable house, he remonstrated with the child, as he supposed, her, on the evil course she was pursuing. While speaking to her he was sharply accosted by a man who took him to task for interfering with the girl, and finally, on being threatened with arrest, declared himself a magistrate. The captain, however, arrested both the girl and her protector, the latter of whom, it is said, proved to be the alderman of the 17th ward. On this discovery he was discharged, and the girl also, as it was ascertained that she was neither young nor inexperienced.

The city of Boston has been measured and found to be a little more than two miles and three-quarters long.

The President has vetoed the French Spoilation Bill.

Fashionable female education is said to be teaching a young lady to talk French, walk Spanish, faint gracefully, and dance the Polka.

It appears from an official document just presented to Parliament, that there were, last year, 450 collisions of vessels at sea, and in the present year, to the 12th of May last, the number was 150.

Prussia possesses 540 coal mines, giving employment to 25,000 workmen. The produce in 1844, amounted to 53,000,000 cwt., to a value of $4,500,000.

THE SLAVE TRADE DONE UP.—The Liberia Herald of the 18th of June, says:—The slave trade about here is breathing its gasp. The British cruisers have so closely invested these dens of blood and death that the slavers find it impossible to send off their victims. The slavers at the Gallinas have given up their slaves to the natives, and some of them we have been informed, are waiting with impatience an opportunity to quit the coast. Those at New Castles, making a virtue of necessity, have embarked in the palm oil trade. Success to this branch of their business.

If you meet with a large paper that studiously neglects a respectable penny journal, be assured that it is from the fear that its readers will compare their relative merits and prices.

DOING THE BUSINESS.—T. Vault, Esq., proprietor of the only newspaper, published in Oregon, is doing a great business. Editing his paper, holding the responsible office of prosecuting attorney for the territory, postmaster, justice of the peace, and one of the selectmen.

A little boy five years old, picked up by the police in the street of New York, stated that his mother was sent to Blackwell's Island, his father had enlisted in the service of the United States, and in consequence he and a younger sister were left destitute.

The U. S. Court was organized in Galveston, Texas, on the 13th ult. The first regular term is fixed for the third Monday in November.

THE RASCAL.—Daniel Nicholson of St. Louis, has ran off with Mary Sweeney, a widow, and left his family in a destitute condition. The scoundrel first sold all his wife's wearing apparel and pocketed the funds. He should be kicked to tophet by cripples.

Owing to previous arrangement Manchester & brother will be under the necessity of closing their Daguerrotypy Rooms, corner of Thames and Mary-sts., Newport, within a short time, (probably eight or ten days,) therefore would say to the good people of this place who wish to present their friends with an invaluable memento, that they can never do better than to give us a call soon. Young lady, bring in that venerable father and that watchful mother, and secure a good likeness to-day, for to-morrow it may be too late. Mothers, bring in those little ones with curling hair and sparkling eyes; they will make pretty pictures; and then, should they be taken from you, you can exclaim, in the language of the poet—
"Gone to their rest, yet we would not recall them
Back to this region of sorrow and pain;
Gone to their rest where no ill can befall them—
Yet we have their (beauties) both perfect and plain."

A BEAUTIFUL YOUNG LADY residing in W. street in this city, has received great and unexpected benefit from the use of that excellent specific RADWAY'S CHINESE MEDICATED SOAP. Some few weeks since she was on a visit to some of her relatives in South New Jersey, where she was very severely bitten by mosquitoes, being at the same time very much exposed to the scorching rays of the Sun, she experienced great pain, and irritation from the effects of the mosquito, and much annoyance from the unnatural darkness of her tanned complexion. We recommended her to use that excellent Medicated Compound, RADWAY'S CHINESE MEDICATED SOAP, she complied with our request, and in three days there was not a single spot, blemish, pimple or blotch left upon her skin, and her complexion is now as fair as her lily.

Ladies, secure without delay a cake of this inestimable Soap, it will purify your skin, improve your complexion and remove all disfigurements entirely from the surface of your system. Price 12-12 cents per cake. Sold in Newport by R. J. TAYLOR, Agent.

BATHING DRESSES.
A full supply of Bathing Suits, Bathing Caps, &c., at the lowest prices; for sale by WM. C. COZZENS & CO.,
July 11 No. 172, Thames Street.

HINTS FOR THE WARM SEASON.
THIS wonderful compound combines MEDICINAL POWERS over all other preparations ever formed for the relief of those diseases for which it is recommended; such as Headache, Dizziness, Sleepiness, Noises in the head, Bad Taste in the mouth, Nausea, or sickness in the stomach, Loss of Appetite, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Fever and Ague, Pain after Eating, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Jaundice, Costiveness, Determination of Blood to the Head, Piles, Coughs, Colds, Pain in the side, back, limbs and joints, Rheumatism, all Cutaneous eruptions of the skin, General Debility, &c.

The Dandelion and Tomato Panacea is particularly recommended in cases of Indigestion and Dyspepsia. The following are some of its distressing symptoms: Palpitation of the heart, heartburn, loss of appetite, pain after eating, languor, melancholy, restlessness, &c. It will cure the worst diseases of Rheumatism, and will eradicate mercury from the system infinitely faster and better than the common Sarsaparilla preparations. The Dandelion and Tomato Panacea is, as all must be aware, from the ingredients from which it is composed, the best as well as the safest.

Spring and Summer Medicine now before the public. Spring and summer are seasons when Diarhoea and Dysentery prevail. Only use a wine glass of the Panacea once or twice a day, and you will get immediate relief.

Jaundice Complaints too are most prevalent at this season of the year. The symptoms of these complaints are Drowsiness, Dimness of sight, &c.

It has proved itself a most astonishing and effectual remedy for that worst of all maladies The Piles, usqueba it cleanses and enables the stomach to disgorge into the bowels, and causes a free circulation, and regulates the whole system, and thereby prevents Costiveness.

In cases of Costiveness, either of recent or long standing, it has proved itself effectual after all others have failed.

Serofula, or King's Evil, and all other eruptions of the skin are caused by the impure state of the blood, and to have pure blood, a medicine should be occasionally taken. The Panacea is wonderful in its effects for purifying and Cleansing the Blood, and is therefore a preventive of all eruptions of the skin, and will eradicate Humors of long standing, and in fact it is requisite for the promotion of Sound Health from the most exhausted constitution.

CORNS!
MADAM BERNHARD, Corn Doctor, (from Paris), politely announces her arrival from N. York, to the citizens and visitors of Newport, and will feel obliged to those who will honor her with a call, at Mr. ELISHA S. KENYON'S, corner of Thames and Young-streets the honor to inform the public that, by a new and peculiar method, she extracts Hard and Soft Corns, Bunions, Callouses, &c., Without Cutting.

Madam B. does not attempt to offer a nostrum, requiring secrecy or faith to require its efficacy, but confidently assuring those who may suffer from troublesome and painful Corns, that they may have the satisfaction of carrying away their tormentor, their Corn, in their hands.

Madam B. has been practising in the U. States for six years, and in that time she has received testimonials from some of the most eminent ladies and gentlemen, as to the benefit and comfort which they have received since their feet have been attended to by her. The operation will not occupy more than 10 minutes, and the relief is so instantaneous that persons thus treated can put on their shoes and walk without the least inconvenience.

Madam B. has practised her profession for several years in Boston, New York, Germany, France, and England, and has acquired much skill, and great practical experience—a fact attested by numerous certificates from the most celebrated physicians both of Europe and America, as well as from the nobility and gentry of those countries, delivered to her after four months' cure.

Ladies and gentlemen will be waited upon at their residence.

Ladies and gentlemen who wish Madam B's services, are invited to call as soon as possible. Madam B. has in her possession upwards of 1,500 certificates.

From the Philadelphia Enquirer and Courier.
RELIEF TO THE AFFLICTED.—We alluded a few days since to the remarkable, efficacious, and painless method adopted by Madam Bernhard, of 459 Broadway, N. Y. and 151 Court street, Boston, in extracting Corns and curing troublesome Tumors of the feet. We are now induced to refer again to the subject, partly in consequence of more than one friend having called upon us to record their testimony as to the sudden and entire relief they have experienced from the operation of Professor, and chiefly because so many persons are in the habit of advertising remedies for Corns, &c., which are more empiricism and pretence. The parties who are now in our office, and who have been under the treatment of Madam Bernhard, assures us that they did not experience the slightest pain during the process of extraction, and that it was accomplished with an almost magical celerity. We observe also that some of the most eminent Physicians, both of Boston and New York, as well as of this city, have given testimonials to the above effect to Madam Bernhard; the writers having experienced a relief from Corns, which had pained them for years. From the Boston Atlas.
Madam Bernhard, at 151 Court street, is said by those who have experienced relief at her hands, to effect a radical cure of the most inveterate Corns. There is said to be no mistake about it. It is a great discovery, and we recommend all the afflicted to try.
